The VARCHA Heli Clinic

Back by popular demand!! The 2011 VARCHA Heli Clinic. Building on the success of last year, VARCHA is once again hosting the best instructional clinic on the East Coast. This year we feature three full days of instruction for both the beginner and advanced pilot.

This year's clinic features five unbelievable instructors from both FAI and 3D disciplines, including: Scott Gray, three-time F3C silver medalist and 2006 XFC Champion; Marcus Kim, Avant factory pilot; Nick Maxwell, reigning 3D Masters Champion; Bill Jackson, Align USA field rep and Jan Matros from Mikado. These pilots will bring you a unique weekend of instruction, demos & clinics. Featuring one-on-one buddy box time and individual helicopter setup & tuning guidance.

With a small class size (maximum 8 students per instructor) your lesson plan will be customized to your individual goals and skill level. Whether that be learning the latest 3D maneuvers or getting started in contest flying. Rest assured that this weekend clinic will take you to the next level.

But this weekend isn't just for advanced pilots, even if you're just starting out, we have a track for you. Our instructors will be on-hand to work with beginning or novice pilots as well. Teaching everything you need to know, from ground school basics to hands-on buddy box flying.
